

RBB ECONOMICS LLP

Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

This statement sets out the steps RBB Economics LLP will take to prevent modern slavery and human trafficking in its business and supply chain in accordance with the UK's Modern Slavery Act 2015.

RBB Economics LLP has a zero tolerance approach to any form of modern slavery and human trafficking. In this statement that term includes all forms of slavery, servitude and forced or compulsory labour and human trafficking.

We are committed to acting in an ethical manner, with integrity and transparency in all business dealings. We are committed to creating and maintaining effective systems and controls to safeguard against any form of slavery taking place within the business or our supply chains.

OUR BUSINESS & STRUCTURE

RBB Economics LLP is an economics consultancy. It is headquartered in London and it has additional operations in Brussels, The Hague, Stockholm, Madrid, Paris, Johannesburg, Dusseldorf and Melbourne. RBB Economics LLP is the UK legal entity within the RBB Economics group of companies.

We specialise in providing specialist economic advice relating to competition law issues.

We have over 100 employees worldwide.

In the above named jurisdictions in which RBB Economics LLP operates, we comply with local laws.

OUR SUPPLY CHAINS

Our supply chains include contractors, software and IT hardware supplies, professional services, catering supplies, office equipment and facilities.

RBB Economics LLP's various group companies may also supply employees to other companies within the group.

We do not believe that our supply chains are likely to involve modern slavery or human trafficking. However, we continue to be mindful of the impact on society of modern slavery and human trafficking and we will take steps to ensure it does not occur within our supply chains.

Over the next 12 months we will review our contracts with our UK suppliers and will seek to include a contractual provision requiring that the supplier confirms their compliance with the requirements of the Modern Slavery Act 2015.

OUR POLICIES

We are committed to conducting business honestly, fairly and in an ethical and transparent manner at all times. We are committed to complying with the laws and regulations of the cities, states and countries in which RBB Economics LLP operates. Every employee, worker, contractor, vendor and supplier is expected to comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations.

RBB Economics LLP has a whistleblowing policy which staff members are required to follow in the event that a member of staff needs to raise a concern of this nature.

RESPONSIBILITY

RBB Economics LLP's Management Board has overall responsibility for compliance with applicable anti-slavery and human trafficking laws. Day to day compliance is the responsibility of the Chief Operating Officer.
