

Daniel Gore

Partner, London

Daniel Gore is a Partner with RBB Economics with over fifteen years' experience as a consulting competition economist. Who's Who Legal Competition Future Leaders survey noted his "great depth of knowledge and strong grasp of the details" and "technical excellence" in horizontal and vertical mergers.

Daniel has worked on mergers and acquisitions raising horizontal and vertical issues assessed in a range of jurisdictions, including the EU, UK, Australia, Canada, China, Hungary, Ireland, Japan, Malaysia, New Zealand, South Africa and South Korea.

Daniel has advised potentially dominant firms on their commercial position under Article 102 TFEU and worked with clients raising abuse of dominance complaints. He has also provided economic analysis on the application of competition law to various commercial agreement between firms.

Daniel has advised firms involved in market investigations in both the UK and South Africa, and assisted in the preparation of expert witness reports for litigation.

Daniel is a co-author of 'The Economic Assessment of Mergers under European Competition Law' (Cambridge University Press 2013, translated and republished by Law Press China 2017). He has spoken at the Association of Competition Economics' annual conference and the International Bar Association's Communications and Competition conference.

Daniel read undergraduate economics at University College London, and received a Master's degree from the University of Warwick specializing in industrial organisation and competition policy.
